Dearest Mother & Dad,

On my birthday I want to thank you for bringing me into this world; for all your interest and loving concern, for giving so generously to me, to Marilyn & the children
through so many great years. We all love
you.

Your son,

Clayton

I knew that, what ever
I gave, if it was hand
made it would be saved, Mrs.
Williams your great that I know, whenever I come to visit, I glow! If you weren't around, you
me sew, my clothes to help
I wouldn't be so neat;
I know I know that I will always hope that
that you remember
this little note.
I hope your day is happy and gay
And celebrate in your own special way.

Dear Uncle Clayt,

I'm sending you a copy of the prayer as close as I can remember it.

I hope you and Elaine have a chance to rest after all you've had to do. I certainly do appreciate all your efforts for us.

It was wonderful to see everyone - it left me with a great feeling inside. I do hope we can organize it and do it again in a couple of years.

Thanks again for everything.

Love,
Carolyn

Dear Clayton & Elaine,

Bob and I both regret that we weren't able to be with you for the funeral on Saturday. I have been in bed for a few days and Bob was involved with a tax client all that afternoon - it was our loss since we were unable to see all your family, Clayton. But what a great occasion for all of you to be together and honor your Mother.

I remember her as a lovely and gracious lady - and my own Mom paid her a sweet compliment as she recalled working with her on two assignments from The Relief Soc. general Board.

We send our condolences and love - and a fresh loaf of bread.

affectionately,

Sue

Mr. J. P. "Jack" O'Keefe, retired as general manager of the Utah Copper Division of Kennecott Copper Corporation October 1977, served on KCPX News Advisory Board as a business representative.

After graduating from Fordham University with a Bachelor of Arts degree in 1932, O'Keefe attended New York University's graduate school of Business Administration.

He joined Kennecott in 1949 at the Chino Mines Division in Hurley, New Mexico. In 1953, he was transferred to Salt Lake City and became comptroller of the Utah Copper Division. In April, 1960, he was promoted to division general manager, retired October 1972.

Among his professional and community affiliations were memberships on: the Board of Directors of Zions First National Bank, the Holy Cross Hospital Board of Trustees, the Board of Directors of the Salt Lake Area United Fund, and the Western Division Board of Governors of the American Mining Congress.

In addition, O'Keefe has been Advisory Board Chairman of Junior Achievement of Greater Salt Lake and Metro Chairman (JOBS Program) for the National Alliance of Businessmen.

Presently chairman Utah Liquor Control Commission and The Intermountain Business Roundtable.

Dear Bert,

This letter is written in response to your card written in Paris on the 21st of May. I'm surely sorry that I didn't get to see you in Geneva. How I would have loved to have stood in front of 12 rue du Midi, in Lausanne with you. Those were some of the happiest days of my life.

It must have been a real pleasure for you and your wife to have your son, Clayton, with you after his having spent two and a half years in Norway. As I recall you in my memory, I can visualize the very fine looking young man, with a charming personality, one whom I dearly love. I hope that in the future we may be able to get together and enjoy each others company.

I appreciate your good wishes for our work in the French Mission. It is a real opportunity, but it entails a lot of responsibility and detailed work. Sister Woolf joins me in sending to you and your family our love and best wishes.

As ever,

For example:

Skating: John uses the skis and Barbara uses the ski poles.

Fishing: John catches them: his wife cleans them.

Golfing: John plays golf, his wife caddies.

Duck Hunting: John shoots them, Barbara retrieves them.

When it was discovered that this was an inauguration and not a convention, Clay Williams took over and eulogized the past officers and committees. This was his 52nd week as Rotary president. He gave John Lowe the presidents' Rotary pin. John in turn gave Clay a past president Rotary diamond pin and thanked him for the great job he had done. Clayton Williams got the largest applause of the day.

“THE VISION SOURCE”

QUENTIN T. WELLS

A look inside the CIA as seen through the eyes of an officer working in one of its most successful (and least known) operations.

ABOUT OUR SPEAKER . . .

Quentin T. Wells is a native of Salt Lake City, Utah. From 1965 until 1969 he was a staff officer of the Central Intelligence Agency, headquartered in Washington, D.C. During this time he served in the Clandestines Services, that part of the CIA which has responsibility for the conduct of espionage operations, and as a current intelligence analyst in the Directorate of Intelligence. He worked primarily in Eastern European and Soviet operations and was involved in a large number of high level espionage cases. He also wrote a number of intelligence reports and analyses for the President and other top government officials.

Upon resigning from the Central Intelligence Agency, Mr. Wells returned to Salt Lake City. He became associated with Abacus Ltd., a full service advertising agency and became president of the firm in 1970. While with Abacus he wrote several motion picture scripts as well as a wide variety of other advertising material for client firms. During 1969 and 1970 he also taught political science at the University of Utah and was the author of several articles on international affairs.

In 1970 Mr. Wells resigned as president of Abacus in order to become a full time motion picture writer, producer and director Stockdale Corp. While with this firm he wrote a large number of television and motion picture scripts and also produced and directed many educational and documentary films for private and government sponsors.

In 1974 Mr. Wells left Stockdale Corp. to found his own motion picture production company, Wells Fargo Film Productions, Inc. This firm's assets were transferred in 1976 to a new corporation, Titan Pictures, Inc., of which Mr. Wells is president. During this time he continued to write, produce and direct television commercials and documentary and educational films. A partial listing of credits in this area is noted below. He also wrote, with S. J. Johnson, the screenplay "Final Payment" and has since been actively working to produce this script as a feature film.

Harry Blundell was one of six business executives recently added to the Dean's Advisory Council of the College of Business, Utah State University, Logan, Utah.

Mr. John Lowe
President
Salt Lake Rotary
Hotel Utah
Salt Lake City, Utah 84111
Dear John:

Last year when we raised luncheon prices for the Service Clubs who meet at the Hotel Utah, we entertained the hope that we would be able to hold the line for at least two years. Since the first of the year, however, the price of food has, as we all know, increased astronomically and all forecasters seem to agree that there is no relief in sight. In addition, the new minimum wage law increased wages 15% this past January and will increase them another 15% in January of 1979, as well as cutting the work week by 10%.

The result is an escalation of our wage scale at every level. Less dramatic, but also affecting our costs, has been the increase in payroll taxes which have raised our benefits to a new high of 25% of our total payroll. In short, we are facing the same problems in our operation which all of us face to some degree in other businesses and in our homes and consequently, distasteful as it may be to us and unwelcome to you, we find it necessary to increase our luncheon price, effective July 1, 1978 to $4.00 plus tax and service charge for a total price of $4.80.

We hope to be able to maintain this price for at least twelve months but must say frankly, that unless something is done to temper this inflationary spiral, we may have to re-examine our pricing after the first of the year. We appreciate your business and your understanding of these problems, both now and in past years.

Sincerely,
Stuart G. Cross
Managing Director

IT HAPPENED IN ROTARY June 20, 1978

Today Salt Lake Rotary, Salt Lake Area Chamber of Commerce and the Utah Advertising Federation learned their ABC's and found out how number 3 became number 1.

Hack Woolley, Vice President and General Manager of KTVX Channel 4, introduced James E. Duffy, President of American Broadcasting Company Television Network. First, Robert H. Hinckley, Sr. of Eden, Utah, was honored as one of the founders of ABC-TV Network. Mr. Duffy gave him some gifts. Mr. Hinckley's response was through a film produced by KTVX news director Gene Minshall which told of some of Mr. Hinckley's attainments and philosophy.

Mr. Duffy has been President of ABC-TV Network for 8 years, a period of great growth. Recently ABC observed its 25th anniversary. 2½ years ago it took the lead in prime time television. It has $1 Billion in annual sales. ABC-TV went from number 3 to number 1.

Criticism is welcomed by this network, but it becomes very concerned about censorship and discrimination. Mr. Duffy expressed faith in private systems and hopes free choice in programming can continue. He explained that every day television is measured by ratings and the wisdom of the public will prevail.

He said violence on television has reduced in the last two years and the quality of children's programs has increased, with socially redeeming values. On the other hand he admitted that television is dealing with more "mature themes".

If these "mature themes" continue to increase, Utah and other groups are concerned that network television's number one, number two and number three might be relegated to number sex.]

IT HAPPENED IN ROTARY June 27, 1978

Today the Installation Committee was very mixed up. As we entered the Grand Ballroom expecting an inauguration ceremony, we saw an old-fashioned convention in process. There were straw hats, a band, and badges. Posters screamed out

"AIM HIGH WITH LOWE"

"BLACK-NER DOESN'T WHITE WASH ISSUES" (Don't give him the brush-off?)

"MORFON'S WORTH HIS SALT" (Give him a shake?)

"VOTE THE GREAT DAYNES" (Now is that putting on the dog?)

"LON WEEDS THEM OUT" (Does he have a pull or is it a cutting remark?)

"WE KNEAD DOUG-AN" (A well-bred man?)

It was announced this was a convention patterned after the last National Democratic convention when President Carter was nominated. There may be similarities as both Jimmy Carter and John Lowe were already in when the conventions began.

The installation committee, headed by Vern Brazell, thinking it was a convention, gave nominating speeches and even showed pictures of their candidates. Actually many of the pictures were quite childish, and some of them were juvenile.

Finally Ray Arnold wearing a straw hat, nominated John Lowe as president of Salt Lake Rotary. The touching part of this speech was the explanation of the close companion-

Three Employee Family Parties Scheduled For December 8th and 9th

Fisher Governor Company's Employee Christmas Parties will be held at the Memorial Coliseum on December 8th and 9th this year, a little earlier than usual because of conflicts with the Coliseum schedules.

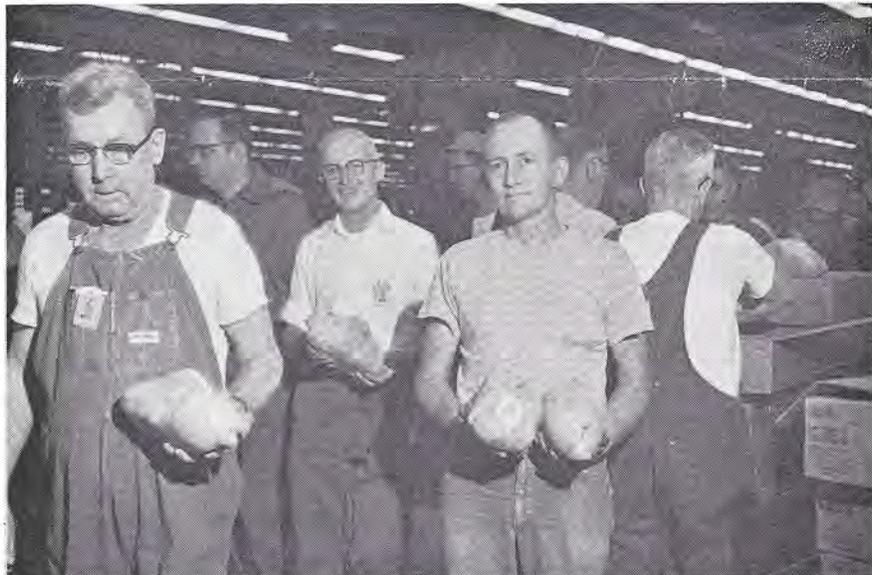

Again this year the big adult party will take place on Friday evening, December 8th, with the doors opening at 6 o'clock and the stage show beginning at 7 o'clock.

Employees will be admitted to the stage show and dance by showing their service bonus check envelopes. Bonus checks will be available from 6 o'clock until 10 o'clock, as you enter the Coliseum. Those who cannot pick up their checks Friday evening may get them at our Personnel Office Saturday morning between 10:00 and 11:30 A.M.

Master of Ceremonies for the seven-act stage show will be Laster Harding, a popular singer and comedian. Following will be Shelley & Don Paige, a comedy unicycle act; The Koloszys, magic act; Charlie Rankin, comedy; Bill and His Educated Pets, animal act; The U-Neeks, an instrumental trio; Laster Harding, singing, and closing, Chequita & Pedro, a surprise novelty act.

Following a 30-minute intermission to clear the floor of seats, dancing will take place from 9 o'clock until 1:00 A.M., with Charlie Trussel's 14-piece band providing the music.

Every employee is invited to attend, and each can bring one guest. However, if a husband and wife or boy and girl friend both work here, it is hoped that they will not bring other guests because of the extremely tight seating capacity owing to the present size of our employee group.

THANKSGIVING CHICKENS! Ernie Coleman, John Coldren, Bill Pinneo and Russell Faircloth take out with their Thanksgiving fowls on the Wednesday before the holiday. That is Harold Warden at the stockpile. This practice has been going on at Fishers, uninterrupted, since it was begun in 1899. It now takes over three tons of choice fowls to meet our needs.

Free refreshments will be available to employees and guests during the dance.

On Saturday morning the smaller children's party will be held at the Coliseum, with the doors opening at 9:15 and the show lasting from 9:45 until 11:00 A.M. The kids will receive a gift stocking as they enter and free ice cream when they leave.

This program has Charlie Rankin as Master of Ceremonies, followed by The Koloszys with a trampoline act; Bill and his Pets; Shelley & Don Paige, comedy; The Koloszys with their magic act; Charlie Rankin doing a comedy dance, and Chequita and Pedro.

Then Saturday afternoon the junior and senior high age groups will have a Teen Hop at the Coliseum from 2 o'clock until 4:30. Johnny Ray Gomez' U-Neeks instrumental combo will provide the youthful music for this session, which will be chaperoned by several adult couples. Each teen-ager may bring one guest. There will be prizes and free refreshments at this show too.

Tickets for both children's parties will be gotten from the Personnel Office by employees during the week beginning December 4th. When you come in for tickets for the Teen Hop, your child's name will be filled in on the ticket. Each child may bring one guest, but if so, you must also have that child's name so it can be put on the ticket when you get it.

The instrumental group which will play for the Teen dance is headed by youthful Johnny Ray Gomez, accordionist, vocalist and entertainer. His group has been playing together for three years, and has been particularly popular with the young people. They play every type of music.

Center, Shin Saito, Kawasaki City; Norm Erichsen, Edmonton; Masato Uchida, Tokyo; Jerry Feldman and Clyde Earnest, New Orleans; Victor Perea, Mexico City; Tom Hickman, Shreveport; Bill Reardon, Phoenix; Jim Hickel, Cleveland; Bud Williamson, Charlotte; Norm Bercuson, Winnipeg; Ollie Henrickson, Los Angeles; Larry Bockholt, Marshalltown; Jim Masterson, Cleveland; Don Crowley, Marshalltown; Paul Maxwell, Liberal; Dennis Blanchard, Marshalltown; Glen Reno, Dallas; Gordon Rhodes, Baltimore, and Bob McCarthey, Amarillo.

Sitting, Bill Sudicum, Memphis; Don Watt, Montreal; Don Edney, Richmond; Chuck Barker, Portland; Ellis McCorkle, Memphis; Bill Johnson, Seattle; John Segasser, San Francisco; Glenn Forster, Woodstock, and Charlie Jones, Marshalltown.

He attended 1st week of 2 week course

Two Week Fundamentals School Held Oct. 23-Nov. 3

A two-week Sales Fundamentals school was held in Marshalltown October 23-November 3. The school, held annually for the past several years for new members of Marshalltown technical departments and field sales personnel, is divided into two one-week periods.

The first week, devoted to elementary procedures, was attended by 33 students. The second week of the course is devoted to more advanced technical subjects, and was attended by 47, mostly members of field sales offices throughout the United States, Canada and Mexico.

Classes were conducted by Sales, Engineering and Production department personnel. Actual shop working sessions were intermixed with the theoretical courses, during which the students tore down, assembled and adjusted production regulators and instruments right out of the shop.

Instructors, in their order of appearance, were Paul Elfers, Bob Lisk, Glenn Brockett, Tom Shive, Jim Boyd, Harold Kinney, Bob Crown, Don Irwin, Alan

Trewhitt, Kenny Stiles, Joe Gaskill, Jim Rawley, Nick Scallon, Mike Piper, Verle Hunt, Bob Touchstone, Herb Rich, Ben Rector, Jim Buresh, Cecil Johnson, Bill Vincent, Hank Ruston, Pete Smith, Bruce Price, Sheldon Lloyd and Chuck King.

New topics included this year were Sales Policies, Arithmetic You Will Need, Electronics Day, and An Introduction to Dynamics Analysis.

Vinson Supply Promotes B. J. Enlow to V. P.

Vinson Supply Company has announced the transfer of B. J. Enlow to the Vinson headquarters office in Tulsa. Bill has been assigned to a new staff position as Vice-President of Sales Coordination and Planning.

Paul Bennett has been appointed to succeed Bill as manager of Vinson's Amarillo district office.

18th Gas Reg. Conference Completed in November

Fisher's 18th Gas Regulator Conference was held in Marshalltown November 6 through 9th. It followed the general pattern of previous Gas Conferences, and was attended by 76 customers and agents.

This is the semi-annual school at which men from Gas Utility customers in the United States and other countries are grounded in fundamentals and acquainted with the newest development in gas pressure control equipment and techniques.

Instructors from the Sales and Engineering departments included Ken Wolfe, Bob Lisk, Bill Vincent, Cecil Johnson, Chuck King, Jim Rawley, Don Irwin, Mike Piper, Alan Trewhitt, Hank Ruston, Paul Tjossem, Ed Lang, and George Porter.

The visitors were shown Fisher's movies, "Muscles of Control", and "Napoleon's Gun Barrels," and worked during frequent shop sessions on production equipment, using our new workbenches in the shop room.

IT NEVER RAINS ON A GOLF COURSE...
AND FARRIS INDUSTRIES CANADA 12TH ANNUAL GOLF TOURNAMENT WAS NO EXCEPTION...

Tournament Winner—Low Gross

Low Net Winner

Most Honest Golfer Award

Brooding grey overcast and early morning showers seemed destined to put a damper on things for the playing of the 12th Annual Farris Industries Canada Customer Golf Tournament at the beautiful Brantford Golf and Country Club, Brantford, Ontario, June 5, this year.

But faith and the mass-will of some 131 golfers (with a little help from the weatherman) paid off and the tournament and the day's festivities proceeded under bright and sunny skies. Participants included customers, Canadian reps, and personnel from Teledyne Farris Engineering, Palisades Park, New Jersey.

During the evening's cocktails and steak barbecue, Bob Biamonte, President, Teledyne Farris Engineering presented a trophy to the tournament winner, Ed Ferguson, Maintenance Supervisor, Uniroyal Chemicals, Elmira, Ontario.

Low net winner, Fred McBean, Project Manager, Lummus Company of Canada, Toronto, Ontario received his just reward from Terry Sloan, Farris Industries, General Manager.

Of course, one of the highlights of the tournament was "The Most Honest Golfer" award presented to Gus Salm, Stores and Maintenance Buyer, Canadian Liquid Air, Hamilton, Ontario, by Jack Kempton, Teledyne Farris V.P./Marketing. This trophy, in the form of a large safety valve nozzle, was fittingly inscribed with the original Farris slogan "Progress Through Honest Purposes."

Other Winners:

Longest Drive, Rick Newland, Project Engineering, Dupont, Sarnia, Ontario.

Closest to the Pin, Bill Alliston, Project Controller, Stelco, Hamilton, Ontario.

2nd Gross

Bob Thompson, Assistant Manager, Estimating, Foster Wheeler, St. Catharines, Ontario

2nd Net

Ben Stoor, Supervising Design Engineer, Ontario Hydro, Toronto, Ontario

3rd Gross

Carl Frietag, Vice President, Engineering, Kilborn Engineering, Toronto, Ontario

3rd Net

Bill Oldale, Maintenance Foreman, Petrosar Limited, Sarnia, Ontario

4th Gross

Ab Clement, Engineer, Shell Refinery, Sarnia, Ontario

4th Net

Jack Minty, Chief Engineer, Chinook Chemicals, Sarnia, Ontario

5th Gross

Earl Hillis, Instrument Engineer, Polysar Limited, Sarnia, Ontario

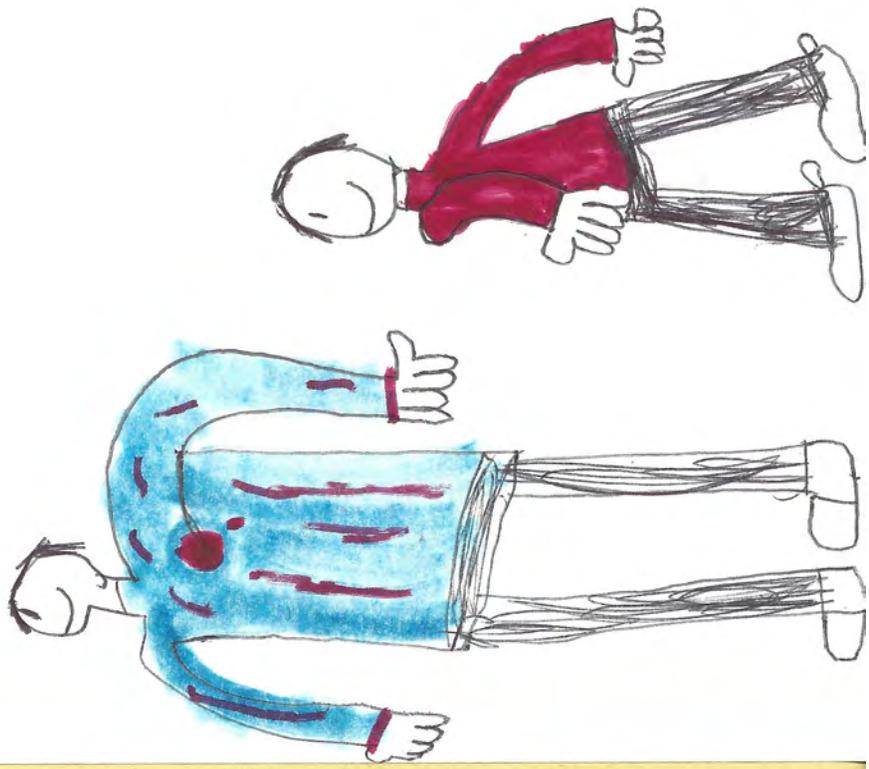

5th Net

Sam Ellis, Purchasing Manager, Kilborn Engineering, Toronto, Ontario

Editor's Note: Oh! The monotony of it all . . . For the 12th consecutive year, the home office twosome of Jack Kempton and Bill Scully, (commonly known as the "Fairway Freebooters") took on the Farris Canada team of Terry Sloan and Bob Elliott, (often referred to as the "Brantford Bogeys") and with their usual aplomb, registered another decisive victory over the Canadian Combatants. As with many "big league" teams, Farris Canada was heard to utter those famous words, "Wait 'till next year."

ABOUT OUR SPEAKER

Bill Dyess is a 20-year veteran of the United States Foreign Service. For most of his career here and abroad he has dealt with the United States and the communist world. Before assignment to Public Affairs in 1975 he was Chief of the US-Soviet Bilateral Affairs Staff in the State Department. In the late 1960's in Berlin he was Chief of Liaison with Soviet authorities in East Berlin and before that he was a Political Officer at the American Embassy in Moscow. He has also been a Political Officer at our Embassies in Belgrade and Copenhagen, and served two years as Czechoslovak Desk Officer in the Department. He has negotiated extensively with the Soviets over the past decade, including seven times as the senior State Department member of U.S. maritime delegations which worked out US-Soviet agreements on cargo sharing and port access.

Dyess' current responsibilities keep him abreast of US-Soviet relations. A principal responsibility of Dyess and the Public Affairs Bureau is to assess attitudes of the American public toward all major foreign policy issues—some of the most important of which are bound up in our relationship with the Soviet Union. While they collect data on public attitudes from multiple sources, Dyess says he and his staff find the most valuable instrument for measurement of public opinion to be "an experienced Foreign Service Officer who visits the heartland of the country and listens."

Dyess, a Phi Beta Kappa, was educated at the University of Alabama, Syracuse, and Oxford. He is a native of Troy, Alabama.

Rotarian Wallace G. Bennett was the subject of a recent Deseret News article, latest in a series spotlighting prominent business leaders in our community. Wally's history was briefly reviewed and an overview was given of his present business operations.

CONVENTION IN ROME

Club 24 members are invited to join the tour with District 542 to Rome in 1979. Departure is scheduled for June 9. After an Eastern Mediterranean Cruise, return will be July 9.

Rotary International President Clem Renouf's theme for this Rotary year is "REACH OUT".

With these simple, yet elegant words, President Clem described his theme as action words. You can't "Reach Out" with your hands in your pockets. They suggest action and commitment—risk—the risk of being misunderstood. In "re-aching Out", we make public our declaration to work for business, home, community and world service for the good of mankind.

QUESTION FOR TODAY

How much federal aid did the Pilgrims get? They were in a depressed area. No one guaranteed them high prices for anything. Their only roads and schools were built by themselves. For security, they did their own saving or starved. All they had was character. All they did was work. All they wanted was self-respect. The sum of those three traits became America.

IT HAPPENED IN ROTARY

September 26, 1978

The noon meeting showed a small house, as many Rotarians attended the Annual Tennis Tournament.

Our speaker was fogged in at Seattle Airport. Skip Daynes quickly arranged a musical program that could not have been better had it been scheduled weeks ahead of time.

Susan Ohlmeyer and Don Decker each sang two show tunes. In between, Mr. Decker said that the popular notion that singers cannot eat before a performance applies to tenors, but not at all to basses. This explains why club 24 seems to sing in the lowest octaves on the piano.

Mary Billeter played a piano composition by Mozart, which was well received.

The work of these three musicians was greatly enjoyed. They are appreciated for stepping in on short notice, although they obviously have prepared for years.

IT HAPPENED IN ROTARY— February 28, 1978

Mayor Ted L. Wilson talked on "The Business Climate in Salt Lake City". As Fred Ball introduced him, he told of Mayor Wilson's prowess as a runner. If he were now running for political office with the platform of "peace and prosperity", he would be a strong contender. It sounded like "Zion prospers, all is well".

From Fred and the Mayor we heard some rapid-fire economic growth figures. Salt Lake City rates very high nationally. Fred said with the planned expansion, Salt Lake City needs each year for office space, one new building the size of the Beneficial Life Tower in the Z.C.M.I. Center.

Mayor Wilson said the future for the city will be one of exciting growth and great vitality in a favorable business climate. He said we can grow and still have a tight hand on the quality of life in the community. He estimated that the valley can accommodate 750,000 people while maintaining our good quality of life.

He said that proper zoning is important. Zoning must be recognized as a tool of progress or destruction. Taxing is always a major concern of government. (Three cases when supply exceeds demand are taxes, troubles and advice.) Mr. Wilson was pleased that Salt Lake City was able to get a bond rating of AAA. The city has the opportunity to utilize the benefits of the Utah Industrial Bond Act.

To a question from the floor on unification, Mayor Wilson said there are artificial boundaries and he was in favor of consolidating Salt Lake City and Salt Lake County. Arnold Knapp

Messers Rotarians,

I am sorry for not having written in such a long time, but I am so busy! I love my new french life, friends and "families". My school keeps me busy and when I try to do things with my friends and "families, I just don't have enough time for everything!

My Christmas and New Years was terrific! They were so different from the holidays in the United States. It was different but beautiful!

Everything is going well, very well! I couldn't have asked for anything better. My "families" have been (and are) very understanding and very nice. My friends helped me at the beginning of the year when I was having trouble with the French language. Even my school teachers are understanding and wanting to help. I really am very happy and I can't begin to thank you enough for allowing me to represent the United States and your Rotary Club in France. I thank you for sending me on this wonderful experience.

Merci beaucoup!
Kathleen W. Lowe
Rotary Exchange
Student-France

A smoother, more literate speaker, Mr. Firmage said he wants tax cuts coupled with spending limitations but hastened to add that "social sensitivity" shouldn't be neglected. His approach would be through the "majority party which controls Congress of which I am a member." He claimed the latest Congress (of which Mr. Marriott was a member) actions are evidence that Mr. Marriott and his party are ineffective.

Mr. Marriott received spontaneous applause when he said, "I believe the way to cut spending (by Congress) is not to send them so much to spend."

He emphasized his record and achievements, including "the state's first mobile Congressional office, a telephone program to answer constituents' questions, service on the Interior Committee and Small Business Committee."

In response to Mr. Firmage's condemnation of the Kemp-Roth tax cut bill as "snake oil and financial disaster," because it wasn't tied to any spending cuts, Mr. Marriott said, "I don't believe the Democratic majority has any intention of cutting spending. The Republicans four times proposed spending cuts, all of which were defeated."

Both candidates favor limitations in number of terms for national office; Marriott three four-year House terms, two six-year Senate while Firmage said, "four-year House terms will never happen while men are short of angels because that would allow congressmen to seek senate seats without putting their own seat on the line."

Mr. Firmage objected to "loaded" questions from the National Right To Work Committee in response to a question from the floor, but said he basically agreed with the Committee's principles.

Mr. Firmage claimed his experience in the national executive branch of government as well as the Congressional branch better equip him to serve than his opponent. "We must look to a more effective conservatism," he emphasized.

Brinkmanship in conservatism among national candidates is something local Rotarians haven't seen since the Hatch-Moss campaign. Many left the luncheon smiling at the prospects.

THE MAKING OF "TAKE DOWN"

KIETH WALKER MERRILL

WRITER, PRODUCER, DIRECTOR

ABOUT OUR SPEAKER

A few minutes of conversation with Kieth Merrill, producer, director and co-writer of "TAKE DOWN", and you realize he doesn't just write and direct movies. A Kieth Merrill film is a quiet crusade. The young director, who looks as if he belongs in front of the camera instead of behind it, has his own definite ideas about the art of motion pictures.

If these ideas conflict with some of his more colorful and better-known predecessors in movie production, it is because a Merrill film is a reflection of Kieth's determined feeling of responsibility: "ONLY THE MORALLY COURAGEOUS ARE WORTHY OF SPEAKING TO THEIR FELLOW MEN FOR TWO HOURS IN THE DARK..."

"These are Frank Capra's words," Kieth reflects, "they were true then, but are even more significant today. Too many moviemakers sense no responsibility to their audiences at all. Their motives are purely exploitative. All of us need to remember our job to entertain, but it can't stop there. As filmmakers, we have our hand on a little black box, wired to the minds, the emotions, and the lives of people. The buttons we push might change the way they live. To me, that's a big responsibility."

Merrill's philosophy has paid off in a way spectacular even for Hollywood. For his first major film effort, "THE GREAT AMERICAN COWBOY", Kieth won the Academy Award. The Oscar was a moral victory as he points out, "the film was made without compromise."

While he is gratified with the Oscar as a recognition of his film artistry, Merrill feels his Wrangler Award from the National Cowboy Hall of Fame says more about the film. These are cowboys telling Kieth Merrill he accurately captured the reality of their life on film.

In "TAKE DOWN", Kieth channels his imagination and inventive direction toward yet another segment of our people, the high school student.

"In this film we have worked hard to preserve the complex realities of today's high school students without losing the natural fun and humor of youth. Just as important, we have carefully avoided the cliched stereotypes that have come out of Hollywood High, and dominated youth oriented films."

Merrill took his production crews to the small industrial town of American Fork, Utah. Stacks of a U.S. Steel plant dominate the background. Many of the featured characters are high school students from the area. Under Kieth's direction, they complement the work of the professional cast, Edward Herrman, Kathleen Lloyd, Maureen McCormick, Lorenzo Lamas and Stephen Furst. The local students in "TAKE DOWN" are so real, and the student actors so good, the line between reality and fiction has almost been erased. "Before it was over . . . we all believed there really was a place called Mingo Junction High," says Merrill.

The story of this not-so-well-off high school and its traditionally defeated athletes has the refreshing yet explosive Merrill touch which has marked his previous productions.

In 1976, Merrill wrote, produced and directed "INDIAN", which portrays the story of a young man in a search for identity—both of himself and of his heritage.

It was Merrill's work on "INDIAN" that led to his selection as director for the Fantasy Films/United Artist picture, "THREE WARRIORS". Merrill worked with Producer Saul Zaentz who had just completed the phenomenally successful Academy Award winning "ONE FLEW OVER THE CUCKOO'S NEST."

When Kieth Merrill moved his cast, crew and equipment to Utah to film "TAKE DOWN", he was in a sense, going home. He is a native of Farmington, Utah. Upon graduation from Brigham Young University, he moved to California where he formed Kieth Merrill Associates, Inc., concentrating on commercials, documentaries, and industrial films before entering feature production in 1972. His commercial clients include Kaiser Steel, BankAmericard, The Reader's Digest, R. J. Reynolds Company and the United States Government.

His studio/home complex in Los Altos Hills, near San Francisco, is a showcase of awards and citations attesting to the public and critical acceptance of the Kieth Merrill philosophy of integrity on film.

THANK YOU, ROTARIANS

Dear Rotary Club Members,

I would like to thank you for the wonderful response to the request for a washing machine for The machine arrived Saturday and was immediately put into use catching up on the laundry for Mrs. and her two small children. Mrs. cannot believe her good fortune. On her assistance grant the purchase of a washer would have been a complete impossibility.

Thank you so much for your generosity and concern.

IT HAPPENED AT ROTARY— October 31, 1978

Following the political debate between Congressman Dan Marriott and challenger Ed Firmage, one Rotarian was overheard to remark: "What we have to do is to make Ed Firmage a Republican."

The remark wasn't all that inappropriate after the two friendly candidates tried to "out fiscal-conserve" each other.

Brave and kindly knight,

There still lurks in the hollow of my head the notion that last Tuesday's program ought not to have been done at all.

And I am wondrously glad that it was.

Having had no hard intelligence about what was to occur, I was resolved to be surprised by nothing. I was, of course, amazed by almost everything; and immensely pleased, pleasantly embarrassed and, here and there, emotionally strained.

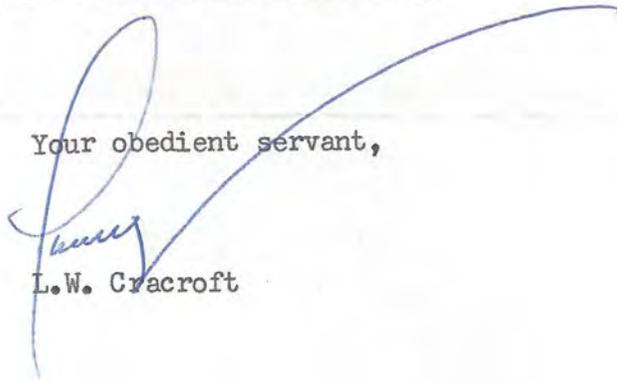

My gratitude is to you- - -for solely originating and deftly managing the entire occasion. Indeed, your personal performance was the most original of the cast and for me the most delightful- - -not as surprising to me as my wife's maiden public speech, however.

I overheard an old hand telling another Saturday night that he enjoyed the occasion more than any other Rotary luncheon in his life- - so someone loved it beside my family and me.

It was an extravagant and over-generous gesture, but quite the grandest thing anyone has ever done for me. And I shall never forget it. Or him who did it for me.

I remain,

Your obedient servant,

L.W. Cracroft

MARCH 28, 1978

Clay Williams said there would be no Rotary Meeting next week. Instead there would be jogging around Liberty Park. This announcement brought out a story heard at Rotary table. Two women were talking at a mortuary during a viewing. "Doesn't he look good?" one said. The other exclaimed "He should look good, he's been jogging for the last three weeks."

"U.S.-Soviet Relations" was discussed by Alexander Zinchuk, Consul General of the Soviet Union. He said the two most powerful nations in the world have different opinions, but they must find common language and approaches to solve problems. He thought that money spent for arms build-up could be better used to build a better life for our people.

Mr. Zinchuk said as more weapons accumulate, accidental use could lead to suspicion and a confrontation could result. He said Russia was not interested in going to war with this country or any country. Within a few months he hoped an agreement could be reached.

Regarding the SALT negotiations he stated that Mr. Vance had brought a new radical decision which needed more ground-work concerning international security. Equal security and equal position of both sides is required. He said each had different neighbors to take into account for example, China is not friendly to Russia, but the United States has friendly neighbors.

Mr. Zinchuk appealed for expanding projects in energy and in scientific and cultural exchanges between the United States and Soviet people. He recommended exchange of goods complimentary for each nation on both sides of the Pacific.

Question: With the increase of American tourists in Russia, will the United States ever build a hotel in Moscow? If so, it could be called "Comrade Hilton".

MID EAST PEACE WITH JUSTICE

Nicholas T. Goncharoff, Ph.D.

We meet in Grand Ballroom II

OUR SPEAKER

Dr. Nicholas T. Goncharoff is Director of International Education and Cultural Affairs for the National Board of YMCAs. Through its International Division he is responsible for the development of programs designed to stimulate a greater awareness and understanding the basic issues, events and developments in our complex world.

He is an educator and specialist in the field of political science, comparative history and international affairs. As a Danforth and McKinley scholar, Dr. Goncharoff has been invited since 1953 to more than 600 colleges and universities and the United States and Canada to address convocations, give general lectures, make class appearances and organize seminars and workshops for the colleges and communities.

Born in Kiev, U.S.S.R., he was captured by the Germans while a tank commander in the Russian Army during the Second World War. After liberation by the American Army, he joined relatives in Western Europe, entered the University of Munich as a teacher and student, also studied at the Universities of Heidelberg, Marburg and Zurich, and was awarded a doctorate in philosophy and history from the University of Munich in 1952. He has done post doctoral work at Columbia and Harvard Universities as well as the New School for Social Research in international law, International Relations and Computer Technology.

Dr. Goncharoff made his first contact with the YMCA in a German Refugee Camp. From 1950 to 1952 he directed the Y's leadership training program in the American and French Zones of Germany. He came to the United States in 1952 and became a citizen in 1957.

He serves as NGO (Non-Governmental Organizations) Representative for the National Board of the YMCAs to the United Nations. He is also responsible for coordination of seminars and workshops on the United Nations and world affairs education attended by hundreds of leaders from all over the country.

NEW LOOK!!!

Club 24's roster will have a new look. To better serve its members and cut printing costs, the 1978-79 roster will be a loose-leaf insert (the same size as our present roster). The loose-leaf, itself, will be permanent. A onetime charge of $3.00 will be included on your next billing. The complete insert will be ready for distribution at our weekly Rotary meeting, the middle of June.

THE CREATIVE PERSON

"The creative person has a richer and more varied array of ideas, images and hunches than the normal person. When he is trying to solve a problem, he has more hypotheses and more varied hypotheses. He is more open to experience, so that perceptions, images and possibilities flood in on him from outside. He is less rigidly resistant to ideas rising from the unconscious mind. At this stage of the creative process the watchword would appear to be 'Anything goes!'

But there is a stage of the creative process that has received far less attention. The creative individual, who has opened himself up to such a rich and varied range of experience, exhibits an extraordinary capacity to find the order that underlies that varied experience. I would even say an extraordinary capacity to impose order on experience. All great creative performances involve precisely such an ordering of experience. And, indeed, it is possible that the creative individual would not be able to tolerate such a wild disorder of ideas and experiences if he did not have profound confidence in his capacity to find or impose some kind of pattern on this chaos."

FIFTY YEARS AGO IN THE BEE

Under special order of business, Leon B. Hampton moved that the present constitution be scrapped and that we adopt the standard constitution of Rotary International.

Leon had a chart prepared to show how our Club could be operated under the standard constitution. Evidently the members could not understand it, for after Ted Holman said a few words in favor of the present constitution a vote was taken and only nineteen were in favor of the new constitution. At this point a number of the members felt that enough business had been transacted for one evening and left.

Dean F. Brayton took the floor and proposed a compromise constitution which he had prepared, reserving the sovereignty of the Club, but conforming more nearly to the standard constitution of Rotary International.

After several motions had been made and amended several times, it was finally decided that consideration of the new constitution be a special order of business for luncheon on April 17th.

(Editor's note: The "compromise constitution" was accepted unanimously at the later meeting.)

VOCATIONAL TRAINING PROJECT FOR EMOTIONALLY HANDICAPPED

The Community Services Committee has agreed to sponsor a Vocational Training Project for the Emotionally Handicapped. This will provide a small wage for three hours a day for any emotionally handicapped patient who is well on the road to recovery.

Unfortunately, in our society a stigma is attached to mental illness. These patients are successful individuals who have responded well to treatment and need a chance to prove themselves in the business world. Will you give them a chance? A $2000.00 grant will be funded by Rotary to Salt Lake Community Mental Health Center beginning July 1st for any business willing to provide a part-time job for three months to patients who are capable in clerical, maintenance, mechanical, housekeeping, filing, and secretarial work, etc.

These people can work for you under mental health supervision for three hours a day, five days a week during a three month period of time. If you are satisfied with these individuals performance you may keep them on your staff or if you would like to terminate their employment, Vocational Rehabilitation has agreed to train and find placement for these individuals.

PLEASE CONTACT THE ROTARY OFFICE IF YOU ARE WILLING TO PARTICIPATE IN THIS WORTHY CAUSE. A mental health professional from Salt Lake Community Mental Health Center will visit your office to further explain the program to you.

IT HAPPENED IN ROTARY—
April 11, 1978

Max B. Lewis, an attorney with the law firm of Vancott, Bagley, Cornwall and McCarthy (Dennis), talked on "Taxation". He gave us a delayed look at the estate and gift tax provisions of the Tax Reform Act of 1976.

It appears that with this new tax law we can no longer pay our taxes with a smile, as the government insists on cash. But only in a democracy have the citizens complete freedom in deciding how to pay their taxes—by check, by cash, or by money order.

Mr. Lewis said an average citizen spends one third of a work day to pay U. S. taxes. He claimed that the Tax Reform Act of 1976 was the worst piece of legislation, designed to eliminate the concept of inheritance. He called the Act the most diabolical incident in history. This Tax Reform Act was enacted into law and two days later the Treasury Dept. was still writing its provisions.

"Unified rates were created," he said, "so taxpayers would pay the same transfer tax in life or at death."

With slides, we were shown estates of prominent U. S. persons who had died and the great reduction in the estate under previous tax laws. The estate of poet Robert Lee Frost was reduced by 37%.

We heard that cash must be paid in 9 months after death for Federal inheritance tax. Most estates have little cash, but have land, stocks, and other property.

Mr. Lewis gave us several objectives of estate planning which included adequate money at death, minimizing all taxes and death costs, a plan which is durable and will stand up, involving families including wife in the planning, and compassion to satisfy the emotional and material needs of the beneficiaries of the estate.

He said to have a game plan with the Federal Government as the adversary to help beat these unreasonable provisions of the 1976 Tax Reform Act. "The American eagle is a symbol of freedom. It is also a bird of prey."

[Notes: It is said "where there is a will there is a way." It was apparent to us that more than a will is necessary to save taxes. The government should be glad the taxpayers have what it takes. Today it seems that you need more brains to make out the tax forms than it does to make the income.]

Dr. Gill Richards: "Well, how is our patient this morning?"

Scott Weiler: "Fine! My temperature slumped three points last night, but it rallied this morning and is above par."

Patient: "What! Six dollars to extract a tooth? I have to work an hour to earn that."

Art Wherry: "If you like, I will spend an hour extracting the tooth."

Customer: "Do you have animal crackers?"

Jesse Smith: "Here, boy, show this gentleman the dog biscuits."

Self-made man: "Yes, I suppose I can claim to be a financial success, and just think, I started business with a shoe-string."

Jack McKendrick: "Hoot mon! That's genius! A man who could get anybody to buy one shoestring couldn't help but succeed."

THANK YOU MEMBERS

"May I take this opportunity to thank the members of Club 24 for their thoughts, good wishes and cards that I received during my recent sojourn in the hospital, and a special thanks for the lovely fruit basket.

Please convey to the members my appreciation for all these friendly gestures."

NO EASY VICTORIES

"Life never was a series of hard victories). We can't win every round or arrive at a neat solution to every problem. But driving, creative effort to solve problems is the breath of life, for a civilization or an individual."

ROTARIANS IN THE NEWS

The Salt Lake Area Chamber of Commerce have named some Rotarians for three year terms on the board of governors. They are:

Wallace G. Bennett

Mr. Bennett is president, Bennett's Paint and Glass.

Scott S. Parker

Mr. Parker is president, Intermountain Health Care.

Thomas W. Lindblom

Mr. Lindblom is vice-president, Mountain Bell.

JOGGERS TURN OUT EN MASSE

Life is full of surprises! One of the biggest ones was to discover how many Salt Lake Rotarians are physically fit. Last Tuesday (with rain threatening) a whole host of them showed up for "Once Around Liberty Park at Your Own Speed", Chances are, you will be interested to read the names of those who joined Mayor Ted Wilson to complete the 1.25 mile run around the oval track. Here is that group of Rotarians who take physical fitness as seriously as it should be taken, and who have earned the title of "Good Sports of Club 24".

It was amazing to witness how fast Bick Robbins (age 86) and Newell Dayton (age 77) made it around the course. Cal Gaddis and Tony Sweet ran around three times (without stopping) at high speed. Our amiable musician extraordinaire, Ardean Watts, was the only Rotarian to try the course on roller skates.

Thanks to all who turned out to make this such an enjoyable and worthwhile event. Also, thanks to Duff Hanks for encouraging all District 542 Rotary Clubs towards better physical fitness. It would be fun to make the run around Liberty park an annual event.

P.S. Thanks to Commissioner Glen Greener for sending the Paramedics.

TELEVISION NETWORK PRESIDENT PLANS MAJOR ADDRESS IN SALT LAKE CITY

(Salt Lake City, Utah - May 31, 1978) James E. Duffy, President of the American Broadcasting Company Television Network will make a special appearance in Salt Lake City on Tuesday June 20, 1978 at a joint noon luncheon of the Salt Lake Rotary Club, The Salt Lake Area Chamber of Commerce and the Utah Advertising Federation.

The occasion is one of a series of events marking the 25th anniversary of the ABC Network and will be highlighted by a presentation from ABC to Utah's own Robert H. Hinckley, one of the founders of what is now the largest advertising media in the free world.

Mr. Duffy will address the gathering on the subject "The American Way of Broadcasting", which explains why the system is the way it is and how it draws from the basic characteristics of the American social, political and economic systems.

While he is visiting Salt Lake City, Mr. Duffy and his party will be the guests of their local affiliate, KTVX, Channel 4, which is one of the leaders of the ABC National Network. The station Vice-President and General Manager Harold "Hack" Woolley says Mr. Duffy will also be interviewed on the Channel 4 weekly television program "Let's Face It".

The luncheon on June 20th will be held in the Grand Ballroom of the Hotel Utah, members of the Chamber of Commerce and the Utah Advertising Federation who desire to attend can make reservations through their executive offices.

MUSIC ADDED TO EVENT-FILLED CIVIC LUNCHEON

(Salt Lake City, Utah - June 8, 1978) A unique musical treat is in store for guests at the combined Salt Lake Rotary, Chamber of Commerce, Advertising Federation luncheon on Tuesday, June 20th in the Grand Ballroom of the Hotel Utah.

Rotary President, Clayton Williams announced today that the one-of-a kind Weber State College Trombone Choir would provide additional entertainment at the noon affair scheduled to pay tribute to Utah's Robert H. Hinckley in honor of his contribution to formation of the American Broadcasting Company.

The unusual musical group is directed by Dr. Herbert Cecil, Chairman of the Weber State College Department of Music and Theater Arts. The associate director is Carson Sharp, who is an adjunct faculty member at Weber State and is a professional trombonist and former member of the Utah Symphony Orchestra. Dr. Cecil is a graduate of the Eastman School of Music.

Featured speaker at the event will be Mr. James E. Duffy, President of the American Broadcasting Company Television Network. Mr. Duffy will speak on the subject "The American Way of Broadcasting" in addition to presenting a certificate of appreciation to Mr. Hinckley for his contribution to the network which is now recognized as the largest advertising media in the free world.

Since a large crowd is expected for the Tuesday luncheon, Mr. Williams has requested that all members of the Chamber of Commerce and the Advertising Federation make reservations in advance by calling their executive offices.
